HENRY F. ROYCE Dies on Wednesday Morning After Long Illness.

Henry Fowler Royce, one of the best mown citizens of Williamstic, died mown citizens of Willimantic, died Wednesday morning at 6.15 o'clock at a private hospital. He had been ill for some time, and since last October had been in the bospital. Death was due pernicious anemia. Henry Fowler Royce was born Feb. 8, 1840, in the north part of Lebanon, he son of Amos F. Royce and Jane B. Peckham. He was one of seven children and was a lineal descendant of Robert Royce, who landed in Boston from England in 1631. One of Robert Royce's sons assisted in the settling of Norwich and several others located in

Mr. Royce was born in the family homestead and was but a child when his parents removed to Frankiin, where he was brought up. He was a hard worker and as a boy knew but few idle moments. His education was secured in the Franklin school and at the Lebanon academy. When 20 years old he taught the Franklin school, having for his pupils many of his former schoolmates. When the war broke out he enlisted on Aug. 25, 1862, in Company B. Twenty-sixth Connecticut Volunteer infantry, being mustered in Nov. 19 following. He was soon detailed on the signal service, being attached to the department of the guif. Shortly after he was detailed to the quartermaster's department of the department of the guif. Shortly after he was detailed to the quartermaster's department of the department of the guif. Where he remained for several months after his official discharge, Aug. 11, 1863.

Returning home, he entered the United States revenue office in Norwich, under Collector Ezra Dean, where he was employed for a year. He was also under Henry Hammond for a time. Mr. Royce then spent a year in the Second National bank of Norwich.

Mr. Royce then spent a year in the Second National bank of Norwich, where he formed the acquaintance of John Tracy, then the treasurer of the Willimantic Savings institute, and two years later Mr. Royce was made treasurer of that institution, Mr. Tracy being elected its president. This position Mr. Royce continued to hold until

On Feb. 21, 1865, Mr. Royce married Miss Martha R. Johnson, who was the daughter of John P. and Lucy A. (Warner) Johnson, at Franklin, Conn. She died Jan. 21, 1890. The following children were born to them: Dr. Charles J. Royce, Clayton Woodford Royce, Adele V., now Mrs. T. F. Howle, Harry F. and Lottle, all of this city. On Oct. 21, 1893, Mr. Royce married Mrs. Celia M. Cross of Providence, a native of Woodstock, who survives him. Of the children all are living but Clayton Woodford Royce. Mr. Royce leaves two sisters, Mrs. N. D. Webster of this city and Mrs. E. J. Warner of Pranklin.

The ceremony was at 4.30 oclock and was attended only by members of the families of the bride and groom. There were two officiating clerymen, the Rev. Ashley Day Leavitt of Concord, N. H. formerly pastor of the First Congregational church in this city, and the Rev. William S. Beard, pastor of the Congregational church. The double ring ceremony was used, with the full Egyscopal service.

The house was decorated with mountain laurel, daisies and ferns. The ceremony took place in the parlor tower, which was arched and banked with Miss John Dougan of New York, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and was richly gowned in pale blue chiffon embroidered with pearls over gold satin, carrying yellow roses. She wore a daisy brooch of pearls as gift of the bride.
